Gold Stands Alone...for long?

Uncertainty turned to fear over the past week when the U.S. economy took a turn for the worse as Europe struggles with its debt. This caused most markets to fall and gold came out standing alone as the best safe haven.

The gold price rose on Monday to the highest level since its record closing high on May 2 and it's holding up in spite of today's easing of the debt woes in Europe. It also reached a record high in euro terms in recent weeks.

Silver continues its volatile backing and filling. But most important, with the last two days rise since Friday's lows, we're starting to see higher lows in this consolidation which is good for silver.

Mr. Bernanke spoke today and as usual this shook up the markets. But the fact that he acknowledged that the Fed's record monetary stimulus should be maintained in order to boost an "uneven" and "frustratingly slow" economic recovery, until job creation is sustained, was good news for the precious metals.

This implies that more stimulus will continue once QE2 ends at the end of this month, even though it has yet to be announced.

This guarantees that interest rates will remain low for an extended period, most likely until next year. Reinforcing this, the two year note fell today to its lowest level this year.

This is good news for the gold price because it continues to take away the competitive edge the U.S. dollar has been striving to attain recently. The dollar index, for instance, fell to a five week low today.

Meanwhile, central banks continue buying gold at a record pace, as the biggest buying binge in decades continues. While physical gold is most sought after for central banks, individuals have been buying up silver. The U.S. Mint sold 30% more silver eagles last month compared to April, in its best January - May period since at least 1986.

Demand is robust. With each passing month it continues to grow, which will keep the major uptrends solid and strong, in spite of the already over ten year old bull market in gold.

The resource and energy sectors, as well as the world stock markets softened this week. That was primarily due to the slowing global economy, which also put a damper on gold shares.

Commodities in general had their biggest monthly decline in one year. This was fueled by a combination of factors, from high U.S. unemployment and slowing manufacturing, the ongoing debt problems in Europe, and accelerating inflation in China and other countries. This all added to concern about the outlook for the global economy.

In addition, Moody's Investors Service may be placing the U.S. government's rating under review for a possible downgrade, which just added to the negativity.

GOLD: Better than other markets this year

This environment was a breeding ground for safe haven buying this week and gold was the biggest beneficiary. The chart on the left clearly shows this.

It compares gold to the major markets this year. Here you can see that gold has been stronger than the stock market all year. It's been better on a 2011 trend basis versus the strong U.S. bond market. It's at an even further high versus gold shares and it's bouncing up more than silver. This chart alone shows this year's demand for the most solid safe haven, gold.

The summer months have arrived, and it's time to be cautious with our positions. We may be going short but we have our bases covered, as you'll see on the following pages. Gold is the last holdout but it too is due for some down time, and it looks like it will be following the others in a downward correction, which in turn will likely keep pressure on the silver price.

Several weeks ago, we felt the slogan; "sell in May and go away" was appropriate for most of the markets. This is proving to be the case, but now it looks like it may be gold's turn next.

TECH TALK: Hedging against economic instability has been keeping gold strong as the rest of the sectors tumble on uncertainty and fear.

But, as we've been saying in past issues, even though gold is rising it's essentially moving sideways. The gold price is in the middle of a tug o' war between key support and resistance levels. On the one side, all of the underlying demand fundamentals will continue to keep a solid floor on the price in the foreseeable future. On the other hand, gold is pushing up against some strong technical resistance below the $1,580-$1,600 level while swimming against the downward tide of the other markets. This could be keeping a brake on gold and why its not shooting up to new highs.

This is why we're not jumping into gold just yet. The market is not showing a clear indication as to what we can expect, so we must be cautious because the odds favor weakness. Gold is strong at current levels, but keep in mind, it hasn't corrected more than 14% in over 2 years. This is saying that even if gold declines to the $1,320 level, its major support, it would still be a moderate decline within the mega over 10 year uptrend.

From a mere risk/reward point of view, we feel that at gold's price today, there is more to lose ST than what we could gain. On the downside, if gold declines below the $1,480 level, we could see it reach the $1,400 level or lower for a loss of 10% or more. On the upside, if gold breaks above its current resistance, we'd buy as it could then shoot up to the $1,750 level or higher, gaining an approximate 10%-15% for the move or more.

The point is, if you were to buy gold at today's price, you could risk losing 5% to 10% in exchange for a 1% -2% additional gain. Better to have some patience and keep your cash available to buy when the moment is right, when risk is low.

In the meantime, we are looking closely at gold shares. For the most part, gold shares are still at important oversold levels. Even though they've yet to start rising with much strength, they're still set to be a good investment for the next move, which we will be prepared for.

Nonetheless, the markets are down. Gold shares are at an important juncture, they're currently holding above the important intermediate support levels within an uptrend for the most part. Many have broken above downtrend resistance, only to come back down to their solid intermediate support levels, where they're currently holding.

If gold shares can hold at current levels during weakness in the market, we'd then be seeing important underlying strength that could eventually push gold shares up to test new highs.

On the downside, if the pressure of a sluggish market prevails, then we'll see gold shares break below their intermediate support levels and will most likely decline to test their major support. We have placed stops on the intermediate support levels to avoid big losses. If gold shares do decline, we will be looking to buy again when they form a bottom

The chart above shows an interesting relationship between gold shares and gold. By indexing both to zero at the start of the year, you can see that gold shares outperformed gold up until its early April peak. Gold shares then declined and they're now at the same growth level as gold, meaning that gold shares are still fundamentally strong and good as gold.

HUI has been declining and currently holding at the bottom side of its sideways channel where it has strong support. If HUI breaks below the 492 level, however, it would be showing important signs of weakness that could take it to the 400 level or lower. If this strong support holds, it could rise again to the top side of its sideways band.

Despite recent weakness at the highs, our in house Adv/Dec Line is looking strong above the Dec highs which is a good sign for gold shares. Its Spinner is showing overbought activity and telling us that it's likely for the Adv/Dec Line to continue declining. The Feb uptrend is key intermediate support and we'll be watching if it can hold above that level.

As for silver, we are seeing important signs of underlying technical strength. Silver has formed an important bottom at the $33 level. Since then it has risen to the $38 level and currently it's settled above $36 which is becoming another ST support level for the move. Silver will show strength above $39, but once silver breaks above its downtrend at the $41 level it could rise to test the old highs.

So, what does this tell us? Keep your positions. Do not buy gold yet. Let's wait for gold to break above the resistance after a 2dc above $1,580 to buy. Keep your gold share positions and keep tight stops to avoid a possible big hit.

Keep your silver position and silver share position for now and wait for key signs to buy more or sell.

COMEX GOLD AUGUST 2011 FUTURES 20 WEEK CLOSE = 1547.1

Comex gold Aug 2011 futures Cx 480 min tick chart (all sessions)

New Recom:	Buy more after a 2dc above 1580 (adjusted). Gamblers sell short after a 2dc below 1485. Look to cover half at or near the 1400 level and cover all at 1365 level. Place stops 10 points above entry level.
Comment:	Gold continues to hold firmly near the highs despite weakness in all sectors of the market. Gold is strong above its 25 (1515) and 50 day (1495) MAs. However, gold hasn't gained important territory either as its resisting at the May highs. Must wait to see if gold breaks clearly below its Jan/Mar uptrend line support on a 2dc at or above the May high resistance at 1577 for a clearer indication as to gold's next move. Spinner has been moving sideways within an up move, reflecting gold's stability in the market at current levels.

(SI2011N) N.Y. SILVER DAILY 6/7/11 CLOSE= 37.155

Open trades:	Long at:	Entry Level: 37.50 (May-27-11)
	Stop:	S/T & M/T: 2dc below 33.
	Profit targets:	42, 50 &/or 60.
New Recom:	Keep your positions. Buy more after a 2dc above 41 (adjusted). Sell short after a 2dc below 33. Cover all at the 29 level.
Comment:	Silver is resisting at the Apr downtrend. Silver must break above this downtrend to see a reversal in trend and a rise to new highs. The 25 day MA is still a key S/T trend to follow. As long as silver remains above it at 36.50 we could see silver break above the Apr downtrend line. Spinner is topping at current levels telling us that a further decline may possibly test the Jan-May uptrend line support. If this support is clearly broken, we'll see silver decline to the Nov-Jan trend near 29, and in a worst case, the 26 level.

HUI GOLD BUG INDEX (INDEX) DAILY 6/7/11 CLOSE= 520.18

HUI GOLD BUG INDEX DAILY

Comment:

Despite underlying strength in gold, HUI has found strong resistance near the Apr downtrend line, as well as its 75 day MA which is a key trend for HUI. Yesterday, HUI fell to the low side of the May uptrend line and its creating a H&S top pattern. If HUI breaks below the Jan lows at the 492 level after a 2dc, the H&S pattern with a downside target of 400 would be confirmed. On the upside, a clear break above the Apr downtrend line at the 575 level after a 2dc would confirm a clear reversal in trend.

GOLD STOCKS ADV/DEC LINE DAILY CHART 6/7/11 CLOSE=5443

Aden Gold Stocks Advance&Decline Line (SGS A/D) daily chart:

ADEN SILVER SHARE INDEX 6/7/11 CLOSE= 24.866

SPINNER (3, 16, 16)

Aden Silver Index (US$)

Comment: As warned last week, ASSI did not break above the Apr downtrend with sufficient strength. It currently is holding at the 25 level which has become an important intermediate support. A break below it would take the ASSI to test the Jan lows at the 22.50 level. Spinner broke below its M/T MA and is poised to decline further. Will need to see ASSI break above both the Apr downtrend line and the 30 level for renewed strength that could then take it to test the old highs.

GOLD SHARES

(GRS) GAMMON GOLD DAILY 6/7/11 CLOSE= 9.37

Gammon Gold (NYSE: GRS); gold: US$
Open Positions	Long:	Entry Level: 9.45 (May-11-11), 9.70 (May-18-11) and 10.20 (May 31-11).
	Stops:	S/T: 2dc below 9 & M/T: 1dc at or below 8
	Profit Targets	11 &/or 12
New Recom:	Keep your positions.
Comment:	Despite GRS's strength during the past couple of weeks, it found resistance at the top side of a rising wedge (shown last week). GRS nearly completed the wedge with a downside target of 9. Moreover, the Jan uptrend line is strong support. GRS will remain bullish above it and could rise to new highs once again. On the downside, a clear break below it would signal important weakness telling us that GRS could continue to decline to its next support level at the Mar lows near 8 or lower. Spinner is topping as it breaks below its M/T MA.

(G-TO) GOLDCORP DAILY 6/7/11 CLOSE= 46.82

GoldCorp (Toronto TSX: G-T; NYSE: GG); gold: CAD$

Open trades:	Long at:	Entry Level: 46 (May-11-11), 48.50 (May-25-11) and 48.50 (May-31-11)
	Stop:	S/T: 2dc below 46; & M/T: 2dc below 44.
	Profit targets:	50 &/or 53.

New Recom: Keep your positions.

Comment: G.TO has formed 3 fanlines which is a bullish sign. Looking strong above its Jan uptrend line at current levels. If G.TO breaks above the 50 level after a 2dc it would confirm fanline strength and the Apr highs would be the target. On the downside, if G.TO clearly breaks below the Jan support after a 2dc, could start seeing the first signs of a trend reversal. Spinner looks like its forming a top at current levels as its near its M/T MA. Not good sign of strength. Weakness would be confirmed if G.TO breaks below its Jan uptrend line and May lows, simultaneously with Spinner breaking below its M/T MA.

(SLW) SILVER WHEATON CORP DAILY 6/7/11 CLOSE= 33.7

Silver Wheaton (NYSE: SLW; Toronto TSX: SLW-T) silver/gold: US$

Open trades:	Long at:	Entry Level: Gamblers bought at 36.50 (May-27-11).
	Stop:	S/T & M/T: 2dc below 32.50
	Profit targets:	46 &/or 50.
New Recom:	Keep your positions, all others buy after a 2dc above 39.
Comment:	SLW declined for a fifth day in a row for the first time in over a year. Spinner is topping at current levels, declining below its M/T MA. However, SLW continues to hold above the Oct-Jan uptrend line above the 32.50 level which has been a key support since Oct last year. If SLW can hold at current levels, it could then rise again to the top side of the Oct-Jan upchannel. On the other hand, a break below the 32.50 level after a 2dc would confirm intermediate trend reversal and a possible decline that could take SLW to test the Jan lows.

(SSRI) SILVER STANDARD 6/7/11 CLOSE= 33.7

SPINNER (3, 16, 16)

SPINNER RISING

Silver Standard Resources Inc.

Open trades:	Positions	Entry Level: 27.65 (May-11-11).
	Stop:	S/T & M/T: 2dc below 26
	Profit targets:	36 &/or 38
New Recom:	Keep your positions. Buy more after a 2dc above 30. short after a 2dc below 25.	Sell
Comment:	We are seeing an important convergence at the 26 level between the Mar lows, the Mar-May H&S top neckline and the Aug-Jan uptrend line. SSRI resisted at the 30 level and declined to the 27 level where it is currently holding. If SSRI breaks below the convergence after a 2dc, the H&S top with a downside target of 15 would be complete. On the upside, if SSRI can hold above the convergence during weakness, and break above 30, it could then rise to the top side of the Aug-Jan upchannel to our profit targets. Spinner looking good.

(UXG) US GOLD CORP 6/7/11 CLOSE= 6.19

US Gold Corp (Amex: UXG, Toronto TSX: UXG-T) gold&silver: US$

Open trades:	Long at:	Entry Level: Gamblers bought a bit at 6.80 (May-18-11) and at 7.05 (June-1-11)
	Stop:	S/T & MT: : 2dc below 5.80.
	Profit Target	9 &/or 11.
New Recom:	Keep your positions.
Comment:	UXG continues to decline despite it having reached oversold levels during the last week in May. UXG bounced up last week but failed to clearly break above the 7 level which is becoming an important intermediate resistance level. Moreover, UXG was unable to break above its 25 day MA which is a key short term trend. Spinner topping at current levels and starting to decline below the M/T MA. All signs of weakness. If UXG breaks below the Jan lows, it will reconfirm weakness. On the upside, if UXG breaks clearly above the 7.20 level, it could rise to test the Apr downtrend line near the 9 level.

(AUY) YAMANA GOLD 6/7/11 CLOSE= 12.02

Yamana Gold (AUY); gold: US$

Open trades:	Long at:	Initial entry price: 12 (Feb 9-11), 12.32 (Feb-23-11), 12.60 (Mar-25-11) and 13 (Apr-6-11).
	Stop:	S/T: 1dc below 11.50 & M/T: 1dc below 11.
	Profit Target:	13.50 &/or 14.

New Recom: Keep your positions.

Comment: AUY nearly reached our first profit target, reaching the 13 level only to fall back down to the 12 level where it'll likely hold. The 13-13.50 level is important resistance as it represents the Apr highs. On the low side, the 12 level is just above Mar low and Jan uptrend line, both of which converge into an important intermediate support level. Spinner topping and declining from overbought levels as it broke below its M/T MA. It is likely to see some weakness in AUY in the next couple of weeks, but do not sell unless it clearly breaks the intermediate support level

FUTURES

(CL2011N) LIGHT CRUDE OIL DAILY 6/7/11 CLOSE= 99.67

Crude Oil NY Jul 2011 futures - daily chart:

Open Positions	Long at:	Entry: 100 (May-6-11).
	Stop:	S/T & M/T: Place stops after a 2dc below 94.
	Profit Targets	Long: 110 &/or 115.
New Recom:	Keep long position.
Comment:	Crude continues to move sideways, stabilizing above the 95 level this month. Must see Crude break above the 105 level for renewed strength. On the downside, crude must break below 95 to confirm weakness.

(SP2011U) S&P 500 INDEX DAILY CLOSE= 1279.4

SPINNER (3, 16, 16)

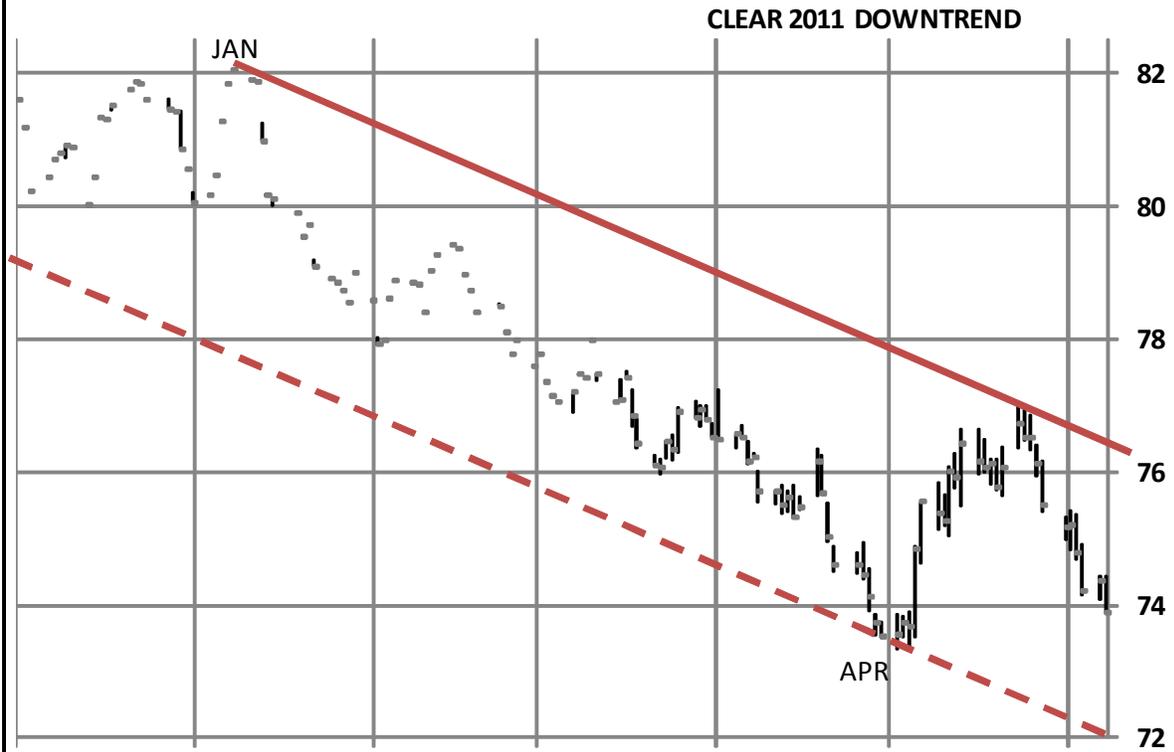

SPINNER FELL TO LOW AREA

Open trades:	Short at:	Entry: 1315 (May-24-11). All covered at 1325.
Comment:	S&P continues to move within its adjusted May downtrend, closing at a 10 wk low today. We were whipped out of our short position, but looking to get back in. S&P is weak below the 1310 level. Spinner is oversold. Sell short again on a bounce up that stays below the 1330. On the upside, wait for a clear break above the 1340 level after a 2dc to buy again.

(DX2011U) U.S. DOLLAR INDEX DAILY 6/7/11 CLOSE= 73.898

SPINNER (3, 16, 16)

Open Trades	Long at:	Gamblers sold at 74.50 for a small loss.
Comment:	Due to popular request, we are keeping the Dollar Index. The slowing economy is hurting the dollar as it closes at a 5 week low today. It's weak below 75 and if it closes below its Apr low at 73 on a 2dc, it could fall to its record low near 71.50. This would be a good buying area.

June-8-2011		AWAITING BREAKOUT DEPT.
Sectors	Symbol	Trade recommendation	Last Closing
Gold
Agnico Eagle Mines Ltd	AEM	Continues to resist at the top side of the downside wedge. This level is becoming an important resistance for AEM. Downside wedge has an upside target of 80. Will wait for a clear breakout above the wedge formation to buy after a 2dc above 70.	63.77
New Gold	NGD	Has been moving sideways in a neutral range between the Mar downtrend and the Jan uptrend, forming a symetrical triangle. A clear break in either direction will tell the story for NGD. Spinner not giving clear indication but its bullish by staying above its MA. Wait for a clear break above the 10.30 (adjusted) after a 2dc to confirm strength and to buy new positions.	9.28
Futures
Copper	HGN2011	Copper continues to rise and looking bullish as it broke above its Apr downtrend line. Copper is firm above 4.10 and could rise to the Feb downtrend line at the 4.50 level. Strength would be confirmed after a 1dc above its 75 day MA at the 4.25 level. Buy after a 1dc above 4.25.	4.19
Rare Earths
Market Vectors Rare Earth	REMX	REMX continues to resist below the 28 level. Break above the Apr downtrend line lacked follow through as it continues below the 28 level. Spinner vulnerable and poised to decline. Will continue to wait for a break after a 2dc above the 28 level.	25.64

Spinner: Spinner is an in-house momentum indicator (not always shown on charts). Momentum indicators use the rate of change in price to determine predominant energy flows. Spinner trading signals are generated when the faster timing line crosses above or below the slower confirming line. Upside crosses in the lower range of positive territory offer the most reliable signals for longs; downside crosses in the top range of negative territory for shorts. Avoid trading against the timing line, ie, buying/selling if the timing line is in corrective mode (against direction of trade) unless the confirming line is positioning for a new 'confirming cycle'. It's important to always be aware of location, direction & cycling phase of the confirming line. Spinner signals are more effective in trending mkt's than in trading ranges where indicators such as Stochastics & Williams %R should be used.
